

Brookes Bell biofouling workshop and reception

We are pleased to be hosting our inaugural biofouling workshop on Friday 22 November 2019 at the Merseyside Maritime Museum and would be delighted if you can join us. All interested parties should register their interest via : events@brookesbell.com

Keynote speeches and interactive panel discussions will see industry leaders from ship owners and P&I Clubs, academic researchers and our own experts discuss key hull fouling issues such as speed and consumption claims, regulatory challenges, trouble-shooting antifouling coatings and the future challenges for hull cleaning.

Brookes Bell

Biofouling Workshop 21 – 22 November 2019

- Speed and consumption
- Successful hull-fouling claims
- Future challenges for hull cleaning
- Troubleshooting antifouling coatings

Mersey Maritime Museum
Royal Albert Dock, Liverpool

Free to attend

- P&I Claims Executives
- Lawyers
- Ship owners/operators
- Port Authorities
- Shipyards
- Paint manufacturers
- Government Agencies

Contact events@brookesbell.com to register

The workshop will be preceded by a welcome reception in our Liverpool office on Thursday 21 November from 1600 hrs to which you are also most welcome. This will give you a chance to meet the other delegates in a convivial setting before the workshop the following day.

We look forward to welcoming you