

 CALL FOR PAPERS ***

University of Southampton Twentieth Century Studies Postgraduate Society

Saturday 13 June 2015

Avenue Campus, University of Southampton, Highfield Road, SO17 1BJ

Twentieth Century Studies Postgraduate Symposium

The twentieth century was a test bed for big ideas

—Patrick O'Rourke

Southampton University's Twentieth Century Studies Postgraduate Society are delighted to invite abstracts for our one day summer symposium. We aim to bring together humanities researchers for a study day considering many different aspects of the 20th century. Possible topics for papers might include:

- Pivotal moments of the 20th century
- Nationalism/Imperialism/Postcolonialism
- 20th century war and conflict
- Gender and identity in the 20th century
- Technology
- Privacy
- 20th century diplomacy and foreign relations
- 20th century literature
- 20th century film, documentary or cinema
- Ideologies or movements in the 20th century

Please submit abstracts of 250-300 words for a twenty-minute paper or 600-1000 word proposals for panels of three 20 minute papers by Friday 15th May 2015 to the conference organisers at:

adf106@soton.ac.uk

Abstracts should be formatted in a Word file and attached to the email. Please save them with your full name, discipline, university affiliation and paper title. Please direct questions to the conference organisers if you have any queries.

Alex Ferguson: adf106@soton.ac.uk

Holly Dunbar: hd5g08@soton.ac.uk

Thomas Ellis: te1g14@soton.ac.uk